

7. (Amended) A computer system as recited in claim 4, wherein the [printer] peripheral device has a housing, and wherein said second transceiver is provided external to the housing of said peripheral device, and said second transceiver couples to the USB port of said peripheral device.